DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamamoto et al. '878 in view of Duffy et al. '610.

Yamamoto et al. disclose the limitations of the claims but lack the specific teaching of: registering suppliers and/or distributors with a marketplace; tracking past supplier and/or distributor performance in at least one marketplace in which they are registered; outputting this information to a supply chain manager; the supply chain manager managing the suppliers and/or distributors based on the information received.

Duffy et al. disclose a supply chain management system that provides buyers with a list of suppliers of interest as well as software for submitting purchase orders via template and the ability to track shipments for confirmation of contract terms being met (See, at least, paragraphs 25-30, 35, 42, 45, 46, 60, 70, 85-93, 106); registering (i.e., profiling) suppliers and/or distributors with a marketplace; tracking past supplier and/or distributor performance (see at least paragraph 0106); outputting this information along with other information including product information to a supply chain manager (i.e., the management system and the user); the supply chain manager managing the suppliers and/or distributors based on the information received.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Yamamoto et al. to register suppliers and/or distributors with a marketplace; track past supplier and/or distributor performance in at least one marketplace in which they are registered; output this information along with any other product related information to a supply chain manager; the supply chain manager managing the suppliers and/or distributors based on the information received, in view of Duffy et al., in order to facilitate efficient communication and interaction between buyers and suppliers (See, for example, paragraph 0007).

Relevant Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The assignee, Restaurant Services Inc. (RSI), launched a product (RSI/Link) "to collect sales, shipment, pricing, and inventory information from Burger King's 350 suppliers and distributors" (See "A Whopping Inventory Task") in 1994.

The article "Burger King Orders AT&T Mail Service" discusses how "the E-mail network will replace a manual, paper-based tracking and ordering system."

The Examiner requests that the applicant provide the Office with any known information relevant to the above mentioned product launch.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

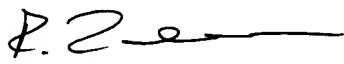

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
